Day-to-day living support

Living well with cancer takes support, and myBeiGene Oncology Nurse Advocates are trained to identify resources to best address your needs, including but not limited to:

- Support from a licensed clinical social worker
- Information about local or virtual support groups*
- Transportation and lodging assistance related to treatment

When a myBeiGene Oncology Nurse Advocate was helping a caregiver with BRUKINSA treatment access for her husband, she learned that the patient and caregiver had recently become the official guardians of their granddaughter. Living on a fixed income, they now had an additional financial burden.

Their dedicated myBeiGene Oncology Nurse Advocate researched family assistance programs in their state and uncovered additional financial resources the family could seek to help cover expenses unrelated to BRUKINSA.
